AS TRUE AS GOLD VALUE—
Prices may go up and the buying power of a dollar may go down, but "gold remains true" always.

That about explains the situation with good clothes this fall.

A good suit or overcoat must remain a true value no matter the price.

—It demands so much all wool.

—And a certain standard of styling and tailoring and finishing.

You do not just a good suit or overcoat by the price of it.

—You judge it by the quality in it, the worthiness of it, the service and satisfaction and wear of it.

Which would you rather have as do—offer you a suit deteriorated in value in order to be able to sell it at the old 1914 price of $11?

—Or pay what is necessary to maintain the standard of it?

—And offer it to you at the smallest possible price?

Well—there's only one way we serve the public and that is the latter way.

ARRESTS ARE MADE IN MIDWAY WHISKEY CASE

Head of Bottling House and Negro
Employee Involved, Federal Authorities Believe.

Sam Seay, of Midway, superintendent of the bottling department of the Midway distillery, became enmeshed in the web which has gradually been drawn tighter by Federal authorities, following the fight there last Friday between alleged whisky thieves and warehouse guards, which resulted in the death of two men, Tuesday when he was arrested by federal officers on four charges.

With Seay was arrested Jesse Anderson, a negro, employed in the bottling department of the distillery.

Both men were taken to Frankfort and arraigned before United States Commissioner Charles Ward. Seay is charged with entering a warehouse and gaining access to its contents, having secreted contents of a warehouse after it had been removed, conspiring to commit an offense against the United States government and removing liquor from a warehouse on which tax had not been paid. Anderson, the negro, was charged with removing liquor from a distillery on which tax had not been paid and secreting contents of same after it had been removed.

MANY STATES WILL ELECT GOVERNORS THIS NOVEMBER

Thirty-four States Will Elect Their Governors at Election To Be Held
During This November.

Thirty-four states are about to elect governors for terms varying from one to four years each, and in many of the states the gubernatorial contest rivals the presidential contest in popular interest. In other of the states the election of governor will be a perfunctory proceeding, as the real choice was made in the primary of the dominant party.

Republicans and Democrats will have candidates in virtually all of the states and the same is true of the Socialists. Through a large section of the Middle and Far West the Non-Partisan league and the new Farmer-Labor party are displaying much activity in regards to the coming state elections. In some of the states these organizations have joined with one of the other of the older parties in the selection of candidates, while in other states they have put their own tickets in the field.

Maine has already elected its governor. In Georgia the winner of the Democratic run-off primary between Thomas W. Hardwick and Clifford Walker is assured of election. In South Carolina the present Democratic governor, Robert A. Cooper, is certain to succeed himself. In all the other states the choice is believed to lie between the Republican and Democratic candidates. The complete list of these candidates, with the exception of Rhode Island, where the nominating conventions are not held until this month, is as follows:

Arizona, Thomas L. Campbell, Republican; Milton Simms, Democrat; two years.

Arkansas, Wallace Townsend, Republican; T. C. McRae, Democrat; two years.

Colorado, Oliver L. Shoup, Republican; James M. Collins, Democrat; two years.

Connecticut, Everett J. Lake, Republican; Rollin U. Tyler, Democrat; two years.

Delaware, William D. Denny, Republican; Andrew J. Lynch, Democrat; four years.

Florida, George E. Gay, Republican; Cary A. Hardee, Democrat; four years.

Idaho, E. W. Davis, Republican; T. A. Walters, Democrat; two years.

Illinois, Len D. Small, Republican; J. Hamilton Lewis, Democrat; four years.

Indiana, Warren T. McCray, Republican; Carlton B. McCulloch, Democrat; four years.

Iowa, N. E. Kendall, Republican; Clyde L. Herring, Democrat; two years.

Kansas, Henry J. Allen, Republican; Johnathan M. Davis, Democrat; two years.

Massachusetts, Channing Cox, Republican; John J. Walsh, Democrat; one year.

Michigan, Alex U. Groesbeck, Republican; Woodbridge N. Ferris, Democrat; two years.

Minnesota, J. A. O. Preus, Republican; L. C. Hudson, Democrat; two years.

Missouri, Arthur M. Hyde, Republican; Jno. M. Atkinson, Democrat; four years.

Montana, Joseph M. Dixon, Republican; B. K. Wheeler, Democrat; four years.

Nebraska, Samuel R. McKelvie, Republican; John H. Morehead, Democrat; two years.

New Hampshire, Albert O. Brown, Republican; Charles E. Tilton, Democrat; two years.

New Mexico, Merritt C. Mechem, Republican; Richard H. Hanna, Democrat; two years.

New York, Nathan L. Miller, Republican; Alfred Smith, Democrat; two years.

North Carolina, John Y. Parker, Republican; Cameron E. Morrison, Democrat; four years.

North Dakota, L. Y. Frapier, Republican; J. F. T. O'Connor, Democrat; two years.

Ohio, Harry L. Davis, Republican; A. V. Donahay, Democrat; two years.

South Dakota, W. H. McMaster, Republican; W. W. Howes, Democrat; two years.

Tennessee, Alf Taylor, Republican; Albert H. Roberts, Democrat; two years.

Texas, J. G. Culbertson, Republican; Patrick M. Neff, Democrat; two years.

Utah, C. R. Mabey, Republican; T. M. Taylor, Democrat; four years.

Vermont, James Hartness, Republican; Fred C. Martin, Democrat; two years.

Washington, Louis F. Hart, Republican; W. W. Black, Democrat; two years.

West Virginia, E. F. Morgan, Republican; Arthur B. Koons, Democrat;

FACTORY TO BE BUILT ON FAMOUS "CABBAGE PATCH."

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 13.—A Louisville company capitalized at $250,000 with a $55,000 plant and employing 100 persons will soon invade the "Cabbage Patch" made famous by the story built around it in Alice Hegan Rice's delightful book. The company will manufacture an automatic device for dispensing and computing gasoline. The output of machines the first year, it is said, will amount to $1,500,000.

MAKE UP-TO-DATE IMPROVEMENT

J. T. Martin and Son, have closed a big contract with Mr. W. F. Johnson and wife to install an up-to-date bath room and laundry room; city water to be run from the H. E. Pogue distillery. W. F. Johnson bought the old McDougale home and is fixing it up in first class shape. By installing a first class bathroom and having all modern conveniences. Mr. Johnson is also having a Williamson pipeless furnace installed by J. T. Martin and Son. Why? Because he knows a good thing when he sees it. The furnace is the best on the market. The work will begin at once.

The annual Southern California Fair will be opened at Riverside today and continued for one week.

Governor Cox is scheduled to devote today to northern Indiana, closing tonight at Fort Wayne.

Pastime Today

Her husband a weakling; her family in disgrace; her name under a lowering shadow. Has this girl the courage to stand out against the world? Or does she take the easier course?

Pathe presents EMMY WEHLEN supported by STUART HOLMES, JULIA SWAYNE GORDON and WYNDHAM STAND-ING in

LIFTING SHADOWS

A thrilling and powerful drama of timely interest. Lavish settings and tremendous dramatic appeal. A heart play of a woman's undying past. She was a girl with a clouded past; he was a prominent American. Has she a right to this man's love?

ADMISSION 10 AND 15 CENTS.

TOMORROW — FRANK MAYO and LILLIAN RICH in "THE RED LANE," a story of smugglers on the Canadian line in the North woods. U. S. Customs officer outwits outlaws.
